

Headline: Founder of Concierge Airbnb Companion App, Luxury Travel Specialist, Creator of International Dinner Salon Series, Philanthropist

Luxury is in the details; details that conspire to produce an experience that will linger in the memory for years to come. This is a philosophy I've embraced to transform ordinary spaces into elegant, multi-sensory events.

Harnessing more than two decades of experience in the design industry catering to the needs of others, I specialize in providing personalized luxury travel accommodations to high-end clientele.

My work has been featured in the Los Angeles Magazine, Hampton Cottages & Gardens, The East Hampton Star, "The Best Shop in New York" edition of New York Magazine and French Elle.

Influenced by my life as an entrepreneur and world traveler, my mission is to fill the gaps in the hospitality industry, which often relies on the one-size-fits-all approach to luxury travel.

As the founder of [REDACTED], a companion app to Airbnb and vacation rentals, I help travelers avoid the convoluted process of coordinating social activities through personalized concierge services and curated experiences. Whether your luxury travel dreams are simple or grand, my team and I make it happen.

More important than the reputation I've earned for my ability to surpass expectations, including praise from former CNN fashion journalist Elsa Klensch, are the relationships I've cultivated throughout my career with some of today's thought leaders and visionaries. I am passionate about bringing people together and providing a platform for social change.

In 2018, I launched Twelve Chairs Plus and The Living Room Series, a two-part networking dinner, where carefully-selected attendees can connect and participate in thought-provoking conversation on topics ranging from emerging technology and policy shifts, to celebrity start-ups and design trends -- all while being entertained at exotic locations across the world.

Having held multiple roles in the design and fashion industry -- fashion designer, florist and interior decorator -- I've developed a knack for anticipating client needs and crafting enticing events. I opened my first floral boutique in 1995, which due to its success quickly expanded to multiple locations. During this time, I provided floral arrangements for high-profile events, including the launch of Oprah's Live Your Best Life Tour and the Dalai Lama's visit to New York.

Years later, my penchant for designing beautiful things and passion for island living morphed into the luxury lifestyle brand, Gasparee, named after a tiny island I visited in Trinidad and Tobago as a child.

If you would like to turn your next luxury vacation into an uncharted adventure or to become a host, visit [\[REDACTED\]](#). For all other business inquiries, please email me.